Im happy for you that you remain in touch and that your brain has not been "smoked" by the truth of the regressing human.

My knowledge should come in handy when you start to teach the next generation of children.

If I recall, you have been engaged for some time, and why not remain that way until the very end unless you think it will help your children acquire that much better a value system which is highly doubtful given again the regression of the human that is obviously part of the most wondrous master design; and that means also the regression could end in the next instant assuming just one more of us feel it important enough to stand tall.

The human "common herd" puts too much energy into the politicians and politics in general.

They forgot that at some point there was no big government and people could still function and could trade and do business

So they are just conditioned that's the way it has been forever.

They only know from their little time on this planet

What did they do before they had all these politicians, how did they survive?

Please don't feel the need to respond to these logical questions that if every 11 year old were to be guided right the answers would be first nature and they wouldn't leave it to their corrupt politicians to use war and rape of mineral rich countries to guarantee the lifestyles of the most insensitive of us.

Again, I will repeat these same themes so that when my book is finally published in print form your minds will tell you it has has all been said time and again and nothing changes.

You are the company you keep.

Putin doesn't look like he is taking care of the poor of Russia.

Why do you think the Pope didn't lecture him on this point when they met on June 5, 2000, 33 years to the day after the start of the Israel-Arab 6 Day War, and 23 years prior to that, was the start of D-Day 1944, the same year that Nelson Mandela joined the already fully infiltrated ANC [African National Congress] who like all of you know their history with their alliance partners De Beers very well.

It all comes down to who knew what and when and what they did about it.

To ignore the truth takes a toll on the soul and they eyes don't lie when they reflect a ravaged soul. It is overwhelmingly the old who look wretched, not the young and innocent.

I don't believe you were raised Jewish, but of course I could be wrong, and nor have I ever paid much attention to a person's religion unless their decision was to choose a religion once they reached adulthood and then it is hugely important.

You recognized very quickly why it was that David Ben-Gurion was in your words, "The General of Generals" which is why the very argumentative Israeli leadership decided to recall Ben-Gurion out of retirement in 1954 following the Lavon Affair where the most senior Israeli Military Intelligence officer, Mr. Seidenberg, responsible for all the logistics in executing the most important "false flag-double black" Israeli military operation in Alexandria, Egypt, turned, but still that huge public debacle didn't prevent the United States and the Soviet Union showing their "true colors" 2 years later as the two superpowers, who were supposed to be involved in the most life and death Cold War struggle joined forces to oppose the combined forces of Israel, Great Britain and France.

Today "The News" is reporting FRANCE ACCUSES USA OF HACKING as well as San Francisco Approves Ban on Public Nudity...Fines Up To \$500, Year In Jail... and earlier before I went to sleep last evening Drudge Report reported that American warships were being sent to Israel in the event that American citizens needed to be evacuated.

Do you think America needs a warship in the area to pick up the electronic signals as they did back on June 8, 1967 when placing America's most wired electronic vessel, the USS Liberty in harms way, just 13 miles offshore of the Sinai after the US gave Israel repeated assurances that no US vessel would be within 350 miles of the very bloody battlezone?

Do you know how easy it would be to flush out each and every corrupt person who can only play stupid so long?

Here is the answer.

Get enough of us to force Obama to explain the 2 speeches-interviews that Nick Oppenheimer did on June 9, 2011 and Nick's meeting with Putin in South Africa on September 5, 2006 that Oppenheimer-De Beers continue to promote, and of course for Obama to have Putin seated next him.

There are of course a myriad of permutations that could achieve the same result.

You just have to think.

If you can sleep with yourself being corrupt like a great many people, this little speech will be like water rolling over a duck's back, and if there is a God then it will mean you can already feel the punishment fitting the crime.

It is the soul that is our conscience and the brain pain from lying never numbs the soul so infinitely deep like the pain does to the brain as it short-circuits beginning with the first lie which is kept track of just like the last lie, but the stupid mind only knows to speak and act stupid.

BTW, I may already have enough "confirmations" from the Traffic Court, but still I might use a messenger service and grab a few more email addresses along the way.

All the best to you and your smart partner.

Hi Gevisers!

I appreciate the trust in me implicit in your request. I regret to inform you that I have taken permanent residence in Santa Cruz, Ca and am unable to assist you in this way.

I am, however, happy to report that life is going swimmingly and that I am successfully completing my degree in chemistry and teaching. I am also happily engaged and living with a loving and supportive partner.

All the best!

Steven

Im currently in Europe and I want to make certain the court receives my communications in the next couple of days.

Let me know if you can do it. I will of course pay for the messenger service with a good tip.

Thank you,
