Tordu, your reading assignment, in preparation for my response to your midnight flailing, letting us know that your life continues to be hell, has been slightly edited; the word count increased by 11 odd words to 8081.

In the event you want to share access for all your followers, you can also provide the link below:

If you slowly move your cursor over the words, Join the unemployment lines, you will see the hyperlink.

Do you think President Trump and Secretary of War Hegseth, should apologize if it turns out, as the evidence suggests, that it was a US Tomahawk missile that hit the Iranian school and killed 150+ children, mostly little girls?

Again, this is in preparation for my response, which will be in due course.

Remember, when you commit a foul there are always more unintended consequences which you can't expect to be joyful.

I didn't make up the rules, remember that.

Gr,

You are naughty, which is a nice way of calling you out.

Without a moral compass, which is not taught in the study of economics, quite the opposite, that coupled with lacking the common sense to question which a university graduate prides itself, and then finding out so late in life after so much bullshit talk that you are wet behind the ears in everything other than deception without being paid handsomely for being a spy, you become arrogant, defiant, malicious, a savage animal with an overflow of Elephantiasis distemper; a total pain in the arse.

To be clear, I have previously never used the word, "Elephantiasis" and I had to look it up to see what it meant, but it rhymes well, you will agree?

Nor would it be possible for me to ever get mad with Hitler or Stalin to their face, but I would most certainly have no problem in ordering their execution and doing it myself, in the event they couldn't be put to better use.

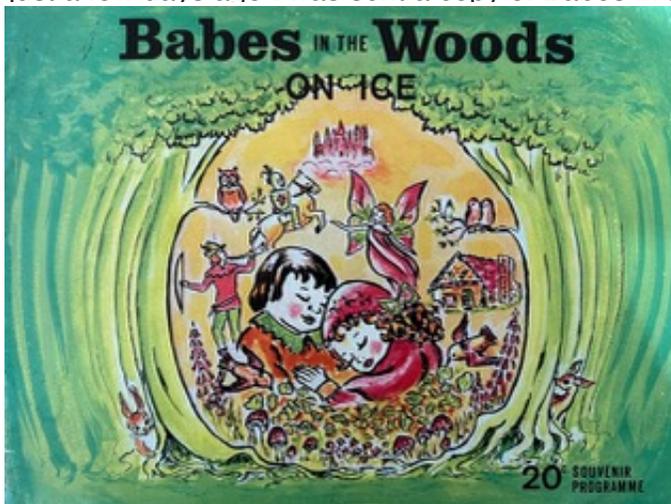

Knowing that neither Hitler, nor Stalin, nor Mussolini were the boss, instead I would do everything, within my power, to keep them alive and healthy while surrounding them with "Yes men" who were anything but "Yes men".

Bear in mind, it was not Hitler who instituted the British White Papers that the House of Pricks, no strike that, House of Commons arseholes formally approved on 23 May 1939, the day before "King of the Jews", General Jan Christiaan Smuts [24 May 1870 - 11 September 1950], same birthday as Bob Dylan and ugly of uglies, Queen Victoria, celebrated his 69th birthday.

BTW, in 16 days, I will be 69, although if I'm following Chinese tradition, I will be 70.

That doesn't mean I have forgotten anything important about my youth.

In fact just a few days ago I was sent a copy of Babes in the Woods program and saw for the first time my name appears.

Granted that was back in Christmas-New Year 1969 when I was already 12, going on 13, and I didn't do anything special other than be myself, smile, wear makeup, have a lot of fun and skate alongside a pretty girl who was a pain in the arse because I thought she was too full of herself, but I later learned from the producer, Mariorie Chase. seen below 4 years earlier, 1965, putting her right arm around me, Chase one of the greatest figure skaters, and most beautiful woman of all time, that the girl had a crush on me, and didn't quite know how to express herself.

Bear in mind, that by this time, 3 full years had passed since the ice pantomime of 1966 when I was the star of Marjorie Chase's most successful, Around the World in 80 days where right before the finale where all the skaters led by Europe's best figure and trick skaters held hands, and I was next to the best of them, the audience waited in quiet anticipation for me to jump

over as many as 6 barrels, and no less than 50% of the time I fell when attempting 5 barrels, and about 1 in 10, I cleared all 6.

To mention in passing,

I would never have attempted 6 after falling the first time, and as you may imagine if you have never fallen on ice, which is harder than seating oneself gently in a cushy armchair, had this one super athletic male not cleared all 6 doing a backflip.

Nothing like having a great mentor to encourage a young kid to push the edge.

It stays a lifetime.

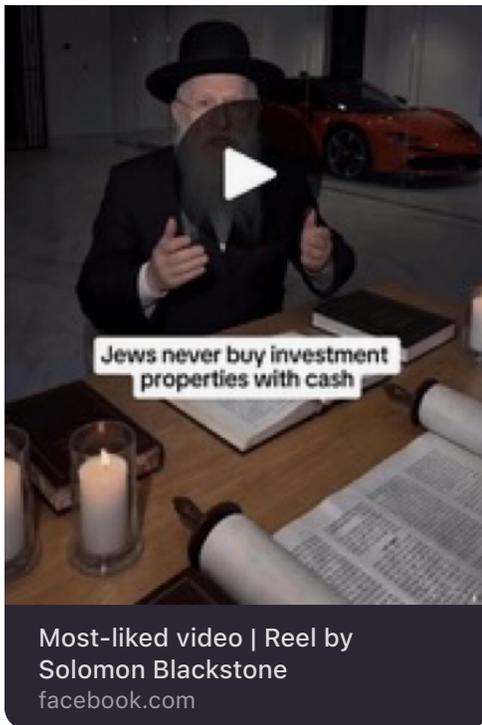

The very worst that can happen is that you die trying to be the very best you can be; nothing close obviously to disappointing God.

What is your excuse Stagnant Wimp for being so fucking retarded?

Not to forget, back on 23 May 1939, the writing was on the wall for us Jewish people. Not a single country was opening their doors, and the British Crown were telling the world, "Fuck The Jews".

That isn't going to stop while we still have traitors like this ugly shit, old fart moron spreading vile anti-Semitism while looking kosher, scholarly and embracing Torah, as if their fukukta white beard shows wisdom, selling money advice; the Nazi caricature of the “Dirty Jew”.

What happened to “Never again!”?

Where is the outcry from the Anti-Defamation League, the Israeli Knesset and Yair Netanyahu?

The outrage of Kristi Noam spending $200 million of taxpayers money on self-promotion is a fraction of the profit of those unwilling to give up their war profits that are totally reliant on fanaticism, extremism of all the religions including academia, the new corrupt church.

Stagnant wimp, is there a reason why you choose to interrupt the flow of things with old irrelevant shit like Robert Maxwell, and someone even less known to the masses, Senator Whitehouse?

How come you don't see as Old School disruptive teaching, your pathetic, "Senator Whitehouse lays it all out!".

My initial read of that is that if this Senator Whitehouse were to agree to cuddle with you after sex, which is why you say you have sex with women because men don't cuddle after male sex, you would leave Genevieve.

You again are not naughty. You are pathetically disgusting.

A naughty person forgets the good God-given, and unforgiving “imagination”; but that doesn't mean you are no longer thinking about, “No less so the imagination” that you have now so selectively chosen to ignore, instead reply a second time to “Right up your alley”, while changing the subject line.

In the interests of time and space, we don't need to rehash all that, made easier by this link below:

Not to mention, your first reply back on February 22, at 1:11 PM California where you hit “reply all” said diddly squat, absolutely nothing.

Given how little you have on your plate, and I’m not proposing you go down to the dog pound, buy up all the dogs, chop up their body parts and invite Secretary of Health, Robert Kennedy Jr. Esq. to set up a barbecue and eat yourselves to death, you will have likely been plotting your insidious follow up, and knowing saying nothing was more than infantile, because the revelation that Jeffrey Epstein had been fooled so easily by an African con artist who fooled the top dogs at even bigger con artist Goldman Sachs, is to be expected.

The funny part is that given how much of a financial neophyte was Jeffrey Epstein, even if Professor Edward Jay Epstein shared with the pedophile, partier, a business person’s backside, Jeffrey Epstein, Edward J Epstein’s first meeting with global mineral-banking monopolist Harry Oppenheimer on December 4, 1978 at Oppenheimers offices at 44 Main Street, Johannesburg, Jeffrey Epstein would have likely kicked back, put his shoes on his desk and at the most asked,

“If Harry Oppenheimer is so rich and powerful, why hasn't he contacted me for financial advice, and everyone comes to me for money and money advice?”.

Remember everyone who reads The D I book is confounded.

Edward Jay and Harry Oppenheimer both knew that the moment Epstein in Chapter One, A RELUCTANT TYCOON, explains that Harry Oppenheimer, the richest and most powerful South African since his father’s passing in 1957, was financing the Soviet Union’s Cuban forces fighting in the bloodiest of fighting South African forces, it showed demonstratively that Wall Street is the biggest farce, and the world’s politicians and diplomats no less so.

Rothwell, get serious.

This communication from Jeffrey Epstein to Edward Jay Epstein on April 14, 2012 doesn’t mention anything about E J Epstein’s The Diamond Invention book, or that Jeffrey Epstein ended in July 2009, 7 months after the DAAC’s rollout of crap Bitcoin, his slap on the wrist prison sentence for violating, raping, trafficking upwards of 1000 underage girls, and Jeffrey Epstein able to attract the world’s top American Civil Rights defense lawyer, Harvard Law Professor, disgusting Alan Dershowitz Esq.

the story iin columbia is that one secret service agent did not pay the right amooount to the prostitute,, she went to the police.. sound familar

That is more than bad locker-room talk.

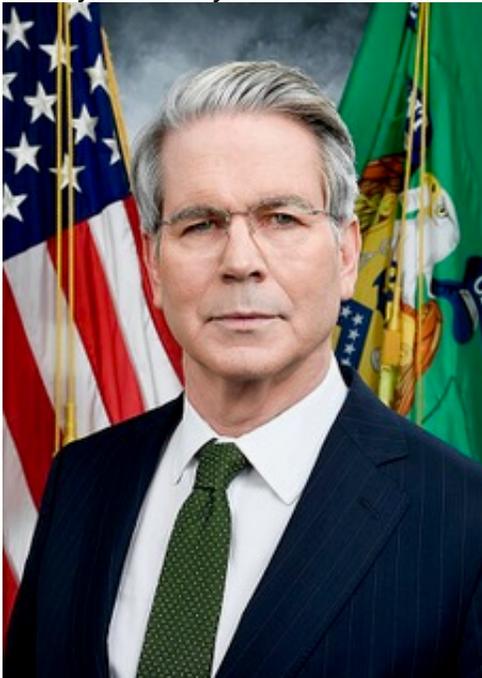

Professor Edward Jay Epstein would not have forgotten that first meeting with Harry Oppenheimer on December 4, 1978, and all that came next.

Before Simon & Schuster published The Diamond Invention book in 1982, they didn't need to convene a single focus group to know how everyone without a soul would react.

BTW are Senator Whitehouse.

and Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent lovers?

To me they look very similar.

There is something very peculiar about people who are all about their Money God. They don't listen.

Put yourself in Edward Jay Epstein's shoes knowing that to explain to Jeffrey Epstein that he was a nobody, attracting other nobody Wall Streeters would leave Edward Jay Epstein with no one to talk to, other than Harry Oppenheimer and myself who would have been keen to hear what Jeffrey Epstein had to say.

Bear in mind, Edward Jay Epstein understood perfectly why he didn't respond to my first introduction on January 13, 2004, soon after coming across his The Diamond Invention book, "shot across the bow" of the Wall Street elite; and let's not forget that 13 January 2004, was 9 months and 29 odd days before I broke my 24 year deafening silence, 11,11,2004, with the German-SA Oppenheimer's DAAC, beginning with the precise words, "Remember me?" Who do you think Edward Jay Epstein spoke to about me?

He didn't speak to you, because that wouldn't make sense.

He wouldn't have spoken to Jeffrey Epstein because that wouldn't have made sense.

Anyone in Edward Jay Epstein's shoes would have contacted Nicholas Oppenheimer without using an intermediary like Jeffrey Epstein.

That was just to see if you are still awake.

Why are we still talking about the Jeffrey Epstein files when The D I book is so much more revealing and important?

Given how you, me and everyone reading this have the time, and there is always more space for the universe to expand into without any fear of colliding galaxies disrupting even the tiniest ant yet to emerge from its egg, let's look at the start of my formal introduction to best friend of conman Jeffrey Epstein, Edward Jay Epstein:

Mr. Epstein – I recently came across your website while doing sum research of chemicals being imported into the United States on behalf of SCALs more commonly known as Shareholder Class Action Litigators.

I have skimmed through your Internet book although I realize that when Simon & Schuster decided to publish The Diamond Invention the Internet was nothing short of a "pipedream" and I assume you are still alive, an Oppenheimer offshoot hasn't got one of his cricket buddies to place a pipe bomb under your car, yet?

I came across in Chapter 18 reference to "Engelhard arranged for Oppenheimer to buy a controlling interest in his far-flung empire, since he had no male heirs to take over." It so happens that my father's first cousin, David Gevisser, was, I believe, the sole executor of Charles Engelhard's worldwide estate.

Sum 9 months after you first began researching your book I emigrated to the United

Just 9 months after you first began researching your book I emigrated to the United States from South Africa first stopping off for a year or so in Chicago where I got to witness “first hand” the “trading patterns” of Joseph Seigal of Seigal Trading you very possibly covering this subject matter including the silver fiasco with the Hunt brothers before heading to New York where I hung out for a brief stint with a diamond syndicate, Codiam Inc, run by relatives of my uncle David Gevisser whose name nor that of Steven Cohen, the main principal of Codiam Inc., I don’t believe, is mentioned in your “one of a kind” book?

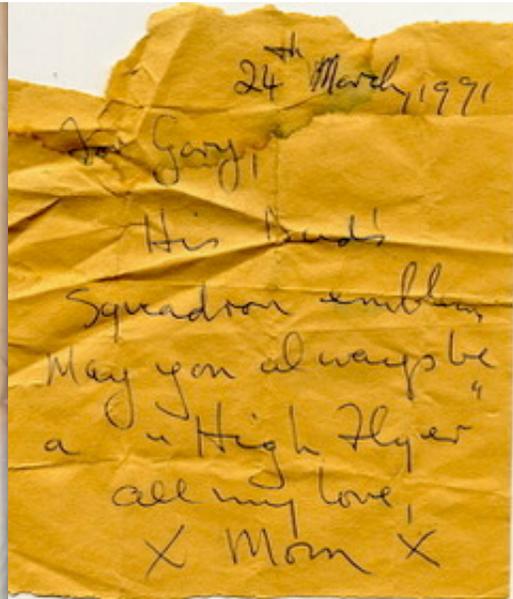

My purpose in contacting you, sufficient to give certain family members a visit to a local emergency room where hopefully a board certified cardiologist might be on hand to stuff them with possibly a stent, is two-fold.

First, I would like to know if you have done any further research in to the affairs of Englehard’s multi-faceted businesses and if so would you be at liberty to discuss them with me, bearing in mind that my family have gone awfully quiet as of late in light of the book that I am very much looking forward to have published in very short order, titled, Manager Minute One, a take-off of the business book best seller One Minute Manager, all geared toward empowering the kids to parent the parents who need the most help, so avoid a “kid” turning into a “dik” my more recent command of Quantum Mechanics having me look at things both forwards as well as in “reverse.”

Without boring you with the details of what exactly has my family “up in arms” my pursuit of the truth of prime importance to me, more so than appearing on say a TV show like Prime Time or even 60 Minutes, although the “conspiracies” which I will be revealing go much deeper in fact than the one you appear to have so eloquently written about, my English grammar not quite as good as my mathematics although it is only lately with more time on my hands that I have vigorously pursued this particular discipline, my formal training, rather limited, I should add, in the business of my parents and those that came before them, traders at heart, my paternal grandfather, Israel “Issy” Gevisser and David Gevisser’s father, Morris Gevisser, starting the Durban Bottle Exchange on the streets of Durban, South Africa at the turn of the last century, Issy pushing a wheelbarrow, picking up [un]broken bottles off the dirt streets, eventually merging with another Jewish family, the Moshals, in what became The Moshal Gevisser Group of Companies.

David Gevisser was the “blue eyed” boy of Sol Moshal whose sister Janie married David’s father who died a few years before this rather well diversified public conglomerate was sold “from underneath us” David clearly distracted by other things going on his life.

Make no mistake my book is anything but “sour grapes” on the contrary were it not for [Chartered Accountant] Sol Moshal being a crook I would very likely be running this “one of a kind” company; and with the likes of Nicholas Oppenheimer today running roughshod over South Africa I wouldn’t be surprised if I was able to gather enough support to have him join the unemployment lines, my well aware of the need to never be arrogant, the truth tho, not only sets you free, but it allows one to fly free and high, the earlier the better, agree?

Remember all that Jeffrey Epstein brought to the table were none curious people.

It is easy to impress unaccomplished people with his money connections, and pretty chicks constantly moving around which for ugly people like Bill Gates Jr. and Leon Black helped them relax, versus being constantly on edge, afraid that a legitimate reporter would ask them to explain how Wall Street manifests itself as a competitive forum, when its foundation was built on monopolist enterprises, that transitioned over time from exclusively shipping slaves from Africa to First World countries whose leadership, all beholden to The Crown's enterprises managed by "order takers", to having the slave wage earners stay put, saving on transportation, while energy resources, oil and gas got shipped over the sea lanes patrolled by world's military industrial complex; essentially just one institution, representing the best interests of the monopolist multinational corporations who have only had one loyalty, and that is to the British Crown who when founding corporations, British East India Company [BEIC], Dutch East India Company [VOC] and Dutch West India Company [WIC] had served their purpose of fooling the people into believing that Wall Street stock exchanges spread throughout the globe was the best way into believing that Wall Street stock exchanges spread throughout the globe was the best way to gauge the health of the economy and spread the wealth bullshit, was made defunct, then the Crown's bankers, led by the Bank of England-Lloyd's of London, reconstituted the defunct enterprises back on their feet.

Have you counted the number of bankruptcy lawyers, estate lawyers, real estate lawyers, contract lawyers, personal injury lawyers, securities law lawyers, divorce lawyers, investment bankers and Wall Street regulators depend on Wall Street to survive?

Why does it make you feel good to look down on the homeless who don't wash, are drugged out of their minds, and both a physical threat and eyesore to passersby?

You didn't mention when looking out over your balcony in Saint-Tropez, if there is any sign of the French setting the trend in people beginning to thin out?

BTW, when you first read my "Lucky Uncle" Dave Gevisser's 2006 autobiography, THE UNLIKELY FORESTER, where he expressed his frustration with Platinum King, Charles W. Engelhard Jr.'s lack of enthusiasm for meetings, did it remind you of either Hitler not listening to his intelligent, savvy generals, or President Trump fed up with reporters asking how the war with Iran is going when he is talking about issuing an Executive Order ordering amateur collegiate athlete to strip down to their birthday suits before getting their free Cryptos?

And who cares what Trump's next distraction is all about, so long as it is not easily predictable and boring?

As much as I hate to repeat myself, a 12 year old wouldn't fall for this nonsense; hence why history is taught so boringly.

Your conniving insidious actions began in earnest on June 25, 2013 with 2 short emails, 8 minutes apart, detailing the treason of the Obama-Biden-Clinton Administration responsible for your employer, Nuclear Energy Agency [NEA], housed within the Organization for Economic Cooperation & Development [OECD], at the instruction of the British Crown's DAAC [De beers-Anglo American Corporation] whose wildly successful anti-competition, pro gangster business operations, back all sides to war when they cannot lose, wiping out all opposition to nuclear weapons development, which of course nullifies Iran being a nuclear threat.

That's unfortunate for you as you approach the twilight of your life as do most of us without, to repeat, worrying about the nutcases still left in Iran deciding they have nothing to lose, but to enrich to 92%, which could take less than 2 weeks assuming they haven't already started; and if they started last Saturday, it would mean that in 6 days for them to dispense with the idea of placing a dirty suitcase size bomb alongside the Western-Wailing Wall.

Again, after you have heard all the condemnation of Goy aka Goymorra aka Torah Gemach aka Bentzion Chanowitz and Tordu Awerbach, why come to me when you know you should have gone to President Barack Obama, unless you knew that Obama was in on it, and you wanted to see what would be the best arguments; wait for the dust to settle, and keep collecting your pension?

Of course, what bothers you most is not Nuclear Armageddon, but the realization that all institutions, both government and non government organizations including Doctors Without Borders, Green Peace, Sea Shepherd, Amnesty International, etc etc have long been infiltrated, evidenced by the reaction of everyone to this photo of Putin meeting Nicholas Oppenheimer in Cape Town, South Africa on September 5, 2006, just a couple of weeks after money grabbing, and never enough, Senator Barack Obama first visited very mineral rich, and superior nuclear weapons developer South Africa for the first time; and by avoiding a public meeting with Mineral-Bitcoin King Nicholas Oppenheimer, instantly became the frontrunner for the November 2008 US Presidential election; nor has Obama looked back thanks to you doing your job to confuse, diffuse.

You of course know all about South African engineers pulling off in no time and with incredibly few engineers, half a dozen nuclear bombs and dismantling them before puppet Mandela came to power. If Errol Graham Musk was not one of those engineers, it tells you the caliber of the team.

Iran is an ancient civilization, now led by morons whose main preoccupation is expensive real estate for when they flee.

Why shouldn't President Trump pick the next round of fools, or do you think the Iranians like the Kurds have learnt their lesson?

Bear in mind, and you should look in the mirror when repeating, you would have long joined the ranks of the unemployed the moment your looks began to fade as a male fashion model, only a headshot of course, because you are not a professional basketball center height, not even close, that had you picked on a lot as a kid, which of course isn't nice, but explains your negative disposition that had you seeking employment in early 2013 with the enemy of the peace loving people, OECD-NEA.

The photo of Putin-Oppenheimer which Putin chose to release on October 3, 2008, one month before Obama became President elect, and his bank account and real estate holdings started to skyrocket, same with Biden-Clinton, ended all your nice playing.

Remember, not only do liars have poor memories resulting from the fireworks, short-circuits, if you prefer, inside the brain muscle trying to keep track of your lies, but it was you who approached me out of the blue on June 25, 2013, just 241 odd days before your bosses, again Obama-Biden-John Kerry Esq-Clinton's gave murderous Putin the "green light" to invade with his mercenary "Green Men" Crimea, Ukraine, and then 8 years later the second invasion with the disgustingly weak support of Ukraine, "As long as it takes".

Putin is bad. But what does it say about his enablers?

So it stands to reason, and thus mindful of this very logical cause-effect universe, that you would converse with nobody Charles Ivie and share that I have neurological impairment which is hilarious considering what you know about your own state of mind.

No one needs to read The D I book to figure that a monopolist would institute anti-monopoly laws to give the appearance of competition.

When the DAAC's Peter Thiel announced repeatedly, beginning with his talk at Stanford University students, "Competition is for losers", it was tantamount to running a flag up the flagpole.

Remember Nazism was not defeated. They simply assessed that getting rid of the remaining half of European Jewry and the rest of us in the diaspora, would take a little longer; simply improving their Gestapo Jewish informer network, Zagiew that for good reason our Jewish leadership make little to no mention of.

Cause-effect on its own is absolute proof of a higher power at work at all times, going back to the singularity; nor did this fact of life ever escape Einstein who correctly referred to General Relativity, "The Mind of God", hence why Einstein was not in the least disappointed that the corrupt Nobel Prize Committee, not only never awarded Einstein a Noble Prize for GR, but when awarding him the 1921 prize for the Photoelectric Effect, the citation was the most incredible backhanded slap.

Remember while you are not alone in this race against time to do good with the remaining time you and the rest of us have available, it would be wrong to assume that every morsel of food and drink you put to your lips is going to be as joyful as before you decided to become corrupt.

Let's now, without, however, forgetting you stopped at Danny Fox - MIT Linguistics Section Head when including those in the cc section, who I have now added, go back to September 16, 2013, some 2 months and 22 days after your shell-shocking announcement that you had not only joined the enemy OECD, who your wife believed murdered Genevieve's best friend, a young woman who joined the two of you when you were marching in the streets against nuclear weapons, but this monstrous organization that was formed in the upside down year of 1961 with the exclusive purpose of promoting the morally reprehensible, logically insane, Gross Domestic Product [GDP] economic index, introduced in 1934, same year that British Crown-DAAC owned new President Franklin D Roosevelt appointed virulent anti-Semite, bootlegger, Wall Street crook, Joseph Kennedy Snr as the inaugural chairman of the SEC which stands for Securities Exchange Commission and not as Elon puts out, Suck Elon's Cock, had succeeded in wiping out all opposition to nuclear weapons development.

The study of economics falls apart when there is no competition.

A constitutional democracy has no substance when competition is eliminated.

Free Speech, Bill of Rights, Fair Housing, Fair Trade, the entire concept of fairness falls flat on its face.

It is not my fault that people around the world including the United States consider themselves duty bound to a particular political party, until the economics of that party put less in their pocketbook.

Granted, it is much more transparent today with President Trump's cabinet who have yet to bring up, and nor have the Democrats in any forceful manner that Treasury Secretary, Bessent, best friends with King Charles III across the pond, has archenemy of MAGA, George Soros to thank for his billions.

Come on people. This is a numbers game. Whatever you are counting whether it be cards or how many testicles you have left, if you are a male, and both are removed, requires thinking and an ability to express those thoughts in a language that others can understand.

No other animal or insect demonstrates such cognitive abilities and then turns its back on logic because it doesn't suit their money objective.

How do you possibly sleep at night knowing that when you wake up the next morning, someone you don't trust because you just don't like the look of them won't wave a wand and this stupid spell will end in the next instant?

After you and I, along with our respective, and let's not mince words, most beautiful, elegant wives greeted one another and it was the first time the 4 of us met, and me previously having no idea that you were that short, which isn't a negative in my eyes, given how the General of Generals David Ben Gurion was only 4 feet and 11 inches tall even when standing on his head which he never did in my company, but he did ask if it was something I occasionally did, which I didn't and nor have I, but I still might if it comes to mind when doing my floor exercises, still it was surprising, especially since Genevieve is very tall, I didn't waste time with more small talk for a couple of reasons.

First, Marie doesn't care for small talk, which is the case with all intelligent and accomplished people.

Second, as her sex object, I aim to please.

It should go without saying that God created man only to provide our better halves sexual satisfaction given that for the vast majority of male humans we are best suited for conducting violence and that in turn has us most innovative in developing weapon systems that kill and maim children, period.

Again, you should, if communicating with me place yourself in my shoes which are currently empty, because I am sitting barefoot.

Once telling me that the Commander In Chief and his deputy Commander In Chief as well as the entire Obama-Biden administration had committed the most foul treason after first granting egregious killer of Russian opposition, President Putin in October 2010, 21 months into the Obama-Biden Administration's first term, with the support of the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States, 20% of the United States' strategic uranium reserves, with Putin using Nick Oppenheimer's DAAC Uranium One corporation as the corporate vehicle, a middle finger of the DAAC like none other, I saw no point in avoiding cutting to the chase; and knowing full well you have been very quiet about CIA Knuff's fabricated defamation lawsuit against me that resulted, despite corrupt Texas State Court Judge Lowy giving me my best defense, "Defenses to what?" given how Knuff, who I still have never met or communicated with, didn't provide a shred of evidence of defamation, nothing even close, handed me a $4 million TEXAS DEATH SENTENCE DEFAULT JUDGEMENT once Lowy took the advice of Knuff's equally corrupt lawyer, Lowensohn who said the way around them not providing any evidence of defamation was simply to strike my responses from the court record and then say I failed to respond to the fabricated lawsuit, which of course was a defamation on me.

Not to mention, when I first saw the first of those 2 emails, again 8 minutes apart, I didn't think you were an innocent bystander in the fabricated defamation lawsuit.

Moreover, why get all upset in this perfectly designed universe that has purpose for everything, starting with the dark making us that much more appreciative of the light.

Nor am I suggesting that should God return you as a naked mole rat to keep the rest company

Not am I suggesting that should you return you as a naked mole rat to keep the rest company that you won't get irritated with each other when sniffing around.

You of course, given how your university education had you thinking when constantly practicing your gift of the gab on your easily impressed but vulnerable students not gifted good parents and grandparents like mine, your thinking was that I would begin by talking about how wonderful that we were all meeting in the City of Light Paris and what museums and monuments we had visited.

I have never found fucking boring conversations enjoyable; and so as to not disappoint myself and again, most importantly my great F-C [Française-Canadienne] wife Marie, I asked, "Where was the military component in your calculation of the future price of enriched uranium?" which you had said was so incredibly accurate, leading to the decision by the OECD-NEA headquartered in Paris, France where Marie Antoinette (1755–1793) was not the first Queen of France to be beheaded, because she was simply the last, to grant you title, Principal Economist.

I fully understand that it pissed you off, but what sort of economist doesn't take into account the manipulation of the DAAC's banking network, including the IMF and World Bank to manipulate war as they do the pricing of currencies?

To this day, you have never answered that most critical question and why, should you return as a naked mole rat, you won't have to think about where you are going to buy a razor, and how much it will cost to shave your legs.

Let's also not forget that while President Trump has nothing better to do than promote his Truth Social platform that only he appears to use but all those mocking him help promote Truth Social as they repeat like parrots his edicts which of course make no sense because the intention of Trump is purely to keep his inner circle of clowns on their toes, knowing they too are like everyone else and all about the money, and never going to spill the beans, he must be feeling his mortality, especially as his neck rash, indicative of the last stages of poor circulation before death, that is not helped if they are using starch to stiffen his shirt collar, is a constant reminder.

Do you have thoughts on what President Trump is going to do as his last official act assuming he hasn't stopped thinking about it?

I very much doubt that he is happy that very unpopular Vice President JD Vance will take over and quickly reverse all of Trump's edicts including dramatically downsizing the Ballroom; but of course Trump knows that JD Vance will be reporting to Peter Thiel, who will waste no time in speeding up the DAAC's Central Bank Stable Cryptos and the people just relieved that they will be getting free Cryptos to play with as they please; and of course you would expect JD Vance, the chameleon to inevitably announce,

"Yes, Thiel is the evil incarnate that he rails against, but let me tell you why that is good for America".

Before I leave you to enjoy fully a most delicious, smooth celery drink with two small wedges of apple, let me make mention of Tordu Awerbuch raising his ugly head, soon after midnight yesterday,

Hey Cunt

Are you in Iran working with the Mossad with your Judo.

Are u in Isreal fighting on the front line

Glad your mom missed this current bullshit, I don't think she would have withstood attacks from Iran rather than her fucked up Cunt delusional son.

How you been you fucking nebbish.

Still stealing money from your wife.

How would Tordu know if my mother missed noisy missiles fired into Israel unless he knows that my mother is dead?

This savage, ravaged mind fool does know that I would likely to be one of the last to know that my precious mother has taken her last breath and finally out of the claws of the monsters who you all know too well, as you have provided them with free sailing.

Like you, Stagnant Wimp Rothwell, your brother Tordu has spoken after a long absence; and like all men unsuccessful with the women, especially beautiful and smart women, sad white South African Tordu who is proud of his service in the Apartheid Regime's militia, not only uses, as he is customary, the C word, but does so twice.

Everything, including coincidences are coordinated in this deterministic universe that it is impossible to escape from no matter how many hallucinogenic drugs one does, not even after killing yourself with an overdose.

Committing suicide, cannot possibly end the horror of the coward's way out, unless they are not a coward, and it is for a higher cause, such as Meir Max Bineth [27 June 1917- 21 December 1954], the captured Israeli intelligence officer, ratted out by a fellow intelligence officer, Avri Elad aka Avraham Seidenberg, bought by the Egyptians in failed "false flag" Operation Susannah in the summer of 1954.

Bineth only committed suicide in his prison cell, after five months of interrogation and torture; realizing there was no way out for him and wanted to avoid the humiliation of public hanging, which was the fate awaiting him after conviction.

Not to mention, Seidenberg, who when finally caught in a MIMI [Mossad-Israeli Military Intelligence] sting, and given a very light prison sentence, 10 years, and no doubt watched very closely as he was put to work, long before his official prison sentence ended, most likely was turned well before the start of Operation Susannah.

Again, bear in mind, General Ben Gurion was now back fully in charge, first as Defense Minister and then Prime Minister, without a day going by when he failed to remember that not only had the virulent anti-Semitic German-South African, Sir Ernest Oppenheimer and his son, Harry Oppenheimer escaped prosecution at Nuremberg when they should have been the first hung, but the South African Jewish Federation had turned well ahead of the official start of Israel's War of Independence, May 15, 1948, when General Smuts was still Prime Minister of South Africa and led the execution of the ruse which fooled all the rest of the world's leaders expecting the destruction of the fledgling Jewish State by sunset.

Imagine going to the trouble of purchasing 50 American built Kittyhawk P40 fighter bombers

Imagine going to the trouble of purchasing 300 American built Kittyhawk-F4U fighter bombers which is all that my dad, although expert in flying Spitfires over the sands of Egypt, flew on his miraculous 71 dive bombing missions against heavily defended German positions over rugged terrain northern Italy, for the tidy sum of 300 English Pounds Sterling, that is 6 pounds each, and all in flying condition having been perfectly mothballed, and sitting alongside the runway, only needing to be fueled and armed, but Ben Gurion deciding it was too risky to ship the Kittyhawks in parts or have them flown to Israel and if all were lost on the way, and Israel now lost, so the 300 English Pounds Sterling would have been lost.

Money is no object in war. War takes intelligent planning.

I am not saying that Secretary of War Hegseth knows his arse from his elbow when it comes to war or that if he shaved his head and borrowed all of David Beckham's tattoos that Hegseth, with enough practice, would be signed by Arsenal and run circles around Messi and Ronaldo.

American Generals do have to read before graduating from our military academies.

Will they be willing to go down with the ship if it turns out that it was the US who bombed the Iranian school killing 150+ plus children, just because they don't want to lose their jobs and pensions?

Maybe, if they see all the other militaries no better.

Furthermore, you may already know that Professor Richard L. Florida, author of WSJ Essay, What is a City When Its Wealthiest Leave?

has now made it clear that he does not want to hear,

A great story involves the corrupt leadership of the Johannesburg Jewish community who were approached by Harry Oppenheimer, eager to demonstrate that they were all about the money. He told them that he wanted to buy their synagogue. They asked an astronomical sum.

Do you want to hear how story ended, as shared to me by Bob Dylan's lifelong friend, Louis Kemp?

despite Professor Florida saying just earlier, "No but I love it" in response to my question,

Have you read, or heard of Professor Edward Jay Epstein's epic 1978 non fiction book, The Diamond Invention which is centered around German-South African Harry Oppenheimer and his German-American partner, Charles W Engelhard Jr who died tomorrow, 55 years ago, having turned just 54 the month before?

War is a dirty business to begin with when there is a clear, peaceful alternative that doesn't however suit the direct profiteers and their academic friends whose business, like the direct war profiteers, is to mingle with the media on both sides of the political isle.

It is again funny that there are paid conspiracy theorists as well as naive journalists who maintain until the cows comes home that we should pay little attention to conspiracy theorists unless it suits their agenda to join the conspiracy theorists, and that is okay because everyone has to do what they can; it being a jungle out there.

In all likelihood Bineth whose daughter, Michelle Dagan Bineth is a member of both my fb Focus Groups-Symposiums, Reason for being here and It is time, was unaware the City of London, within the greater metropolitan London, United Kingdom and Johannesburg, South Africa based DAAC were the pivotal cog in the military industrial complex, playing both sides, when he wrote in his prison cell for,

"his defence, among other things, the line 'I think that the principal cause of wars is the age-old fear existing between man and communities that there may not be enough bread for all.'" ~ Wikipedia

Not to mention Marie who wouldn't recognize Tordu in the police lineup and who like me only met Tordu once for a pizza meeting in Irvine California back in 2011, had no idea that Tordu is South African and has no idea of what he looks like, just to tell you how little an impression fat ugly Tordu had on Marie who left the outside table right after clown Tordu made it clear he was only after a job as he suggested his usefulness, "Why haven't you monetized 2facettruth.com?"

It was like asking an eskimo where an ostrich might find snow to bury their head.

Let me repeat, 2facettruth.com not only gives the history of The Crown's monies, but flushes out all the world's two-faced.

Remember, this universe is not all "doom and gloom" quite the opposite in fact.

As I shared with a bread baker yesterday at a local farmer's market who reminded me that dogs evolved alongside humans, as both are pack animals, and dogs love to sleep with their owners; and more often than not when its owner takes a deep breath, the dog, especially when in a deep sleep does the same thing, and so wonderfully rewarding, feeling fortunate not to be an anti; but I corrected him that he was right about everything other than us evolving together ant, but I corrected him that he was right about everything, other than us evolving together, since the human Sheep [Subanimal Human Evolutionary Ecological Problem] has been devolving since 6 million years back when we no longer exclusively hung from tree branches; and the remnants of us being so wonderfully close to chimpanzees is when flailing our hands when talking.

Not only is the Sheep's highest and best use developing killer weaponry, but we applaud our richest multinational corporations who back all sides to war when they cannot possibly lose, making a complete mockery of the anti-Trust laws that only provide a veneer of proprietary.

BTW, did you notice that constantly moving his hands Michael Wolff on the Daily Beast podcast with Wall Street neophyte Britisher Joanna Coles, who is best at making the Melania impersonation, her lovely white complexion a wonderful contrast, amplified given how Joanna's impersonation is mostly mumbling, and of course Ms. Coles prides herself on her English schooling articulation, albeit her history schooling for the birds, used the word "nincompoop" for the first time.

Just in case you think I have only been hydrating myself all day, and it is only 6:27 PM on the west coast of the United States where the time was moved forward for Daylight Saving, which mostly serves to have people something to talk about other than the war where everyone has an opinion, beginning at 9:22 AM, I wrote to a Jewish South African woman the following:

Do you realize the war on Iran is not to protect Israel, rather it prevents Netanyahu going to jail for life?

Poor Israelis, who don't have homes elsewhere like Monte Carlo, Clifton, Malibu, La Jolla, Del Mar, Bel Air, Mayfair-Kensington London, and Palm Beach Florida are going to be the most negatively impacted, starting with Jewish Israelis long living in tent cities on the outskirts of Tel Aviv and those sleeping within, on concrete sidewalks with Israelis long used to this eyesore most comfortable looking the other way, when not looking directly at them and cursing.

Why do you think the British Crown first allowed Arafat's daughter to gobble up tens of billions of prime London real estate which makes the publicly disclosed tens of millions owned by the son and heir apparent of killed 86 year old Khamenei, Mojtaba Khamenei, simply chomp change?

Easy question: Who do you think is most responsible for choosing all our violent, corrupt politician-tyrants?

The human only reacts to what is morally wrong and harmful to the planet, and nothing worse than animal agriculture, when it affects their pocketbook.

It wouldn't surprise me if you have forgotten that Netanyahu's son, Yair has been AWOL, living it up in Miami ever since Oct 7, and to top it off, he can't stop mouthing off.

Trump's family and inner circle are no different.

Nor are Biden and Obama.

The only one different was the smartest of them, Jimmy Carter, a very brave US Navy nuclear submarine Executive Officer and nuclear physicist, and he was over his head as President, because he wasn't schooled in military economics as I was from an early age, thanks to my common sense questioning of my mother Zena who knew better than either to spoon feed, that only does harm to the brain as it stops the brain muscle from functioning the way it is designed to seek beauty in everything starting with choosing a partner based on looks, not their material wealth, or think that her children were more special than anyone else's, and impervious to being turned, which is most likely in those all about the money.

The bravery and competency of Carter is exemplified by his leadership role in the 1952 accident with the experimental NRX reactor at Atomic Energy of Canada's Chalk River Laboratories which caused a partial meltdown.

People spend too much time thinking and talking money that they don't know the first thing about until they read my clear writings understandable by a 12 year old who hasn't been corrupted by the disgusting parent-grandparent beginning to ask at age 3 if not younger, "How are you going to make a living to afford the car, the wife, the house, the toys <https://www.forbes.com/sites/amydobson/2020/08/10/asking-242m-a-new-mega-property-lands-in-london-believe-it-or-not-this-is-a-discount/and> the yacht"?

You haven't asked me about Jonathan Beare only telling me that he is very charitable with two sinful synagogues in high income neighborhood uMhlanga?

"Trouble Bubble" Beare's favorite nephew, Derrick Beare who stands to inherit the bulk of Jonathan's multibillion real estate global empire was for umpteen years my best friend and business partner; not to mention, Derrick is the golfer in the video above taken in Johannesburg back 1989 driving the ball into my left elbow, and I'm the one first talking; to mention little of it is Derrick, good enough to play first division English league soccer as a striker, asking me for change to tip our black South African caddies who show their superior intellect as they humour the two of us; to mention in passing read carefully the Forbes article that shows Derrick, who runs circles around Warren Buffet, Peter Thiel, Elon Musk, Zuckerberg, Bezos, the Ellisons and the rest of the chieftains of Wall Street all combined, crying poverty for losing upwards of $100 million on his purchase of the world's second most famous residence, the first of course Buckingham Palace.

Even the dumbest of investors knows you make your profit on real estate when you buy it.

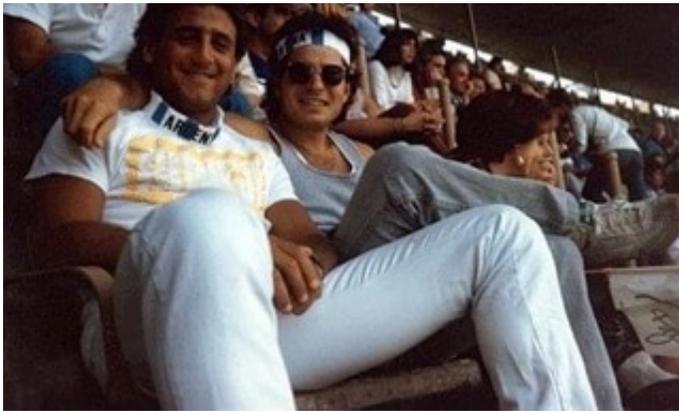

I wouldn't discuss any of this with your husband unless you want to put him in an early grave 😊

How are you coming along with the title to my piece?

Derrick on the right, me on the left in Mexico City at 1986 World Cup Final.

The 2 of us in the stands, obviously supporting Argentina who won and only finding out the result once we returned to Los Angeles.

Derrick taking a leak

What's your best guess as to how much we can raise in a Go FUND ME campaign?

Can you think of anyone who would be willing to work on commission?

Today is food preparation day and of course Mac simply wants to play.

It's a beautiful sunshine day without having to worry about the sound of exploding ordinance.

Why do you think the human is never satisfied with the simple but not stupid things in life, "life" [sic] fresh air and good health to enjoy the outside until their health gives out and they only care about themselves?

Stagnant wimp, bear in mind, this most wonderful lady who is less than a year older than me, can't stop commending me, my mother Zena and Marie.

She is a retired English teacher with the most wonderful English accent which is very rare amongst born and bred white South Africans with few exceptions, my father being the only person I can think of; and of course, Elon Musk has a very thick Afrikaans accent which he covers, making it easier for people to understand him which is increasingly difficult as his Mars project bites the dust, without forgetting that on the basis of Elon exposing the fraud of the global automotive industry with the arrival of his Model S TESLA in 2012, Elon deserves to be the richest person in the world, but as you know that doesn't amount to much when the money is manipulated by the DAAC's Central Banks.

That piece, I referred to earlier, and still waiting for a title from this wonderful lady, which hasn't stopped the 14 wild turkeys from visiting with us, the biggest group we have ever seen, is temporarily titled, Simple happiness, and can be accessed by clicking the link below:

To my mother.
